* Went on to win the State Championship

Welcome to the coalfield conference tournament. These are high school athletes who are performing here today. They are friendly rivals as members of opposing teams; they are not enemies. This friendly competition is the theme of inter-scholastic athletics. The officials are men who administer the rules. Their experience and integrity qualify them for their part in this friendly contest. This attitude of sportsmanship should be reflected by all spectators, regardless of their personal feelings or loyalty to one or another of the teams competing. Enjoy the fine wrestling in the tournament. This conference produced 6 state finalists last season. Three went on to win state titles.

An interscholastic wrestling match is composed of three two-minute periods, for a total of six minutes. To begin the first period, wrestlers assume a neutral position on their feet. The second period is started with one wrestler choosing either the up, down or standing position. His opponent will get the same choice to begin the third period.

If a draw occurs in tournaments after the regulation time, the wrestlers will wrestle three one-minute periods. If at the end of this time there is a draw, the winner will be elected by the officials who have judged the competition using established criteria.

EXPLANATION OF COLORS

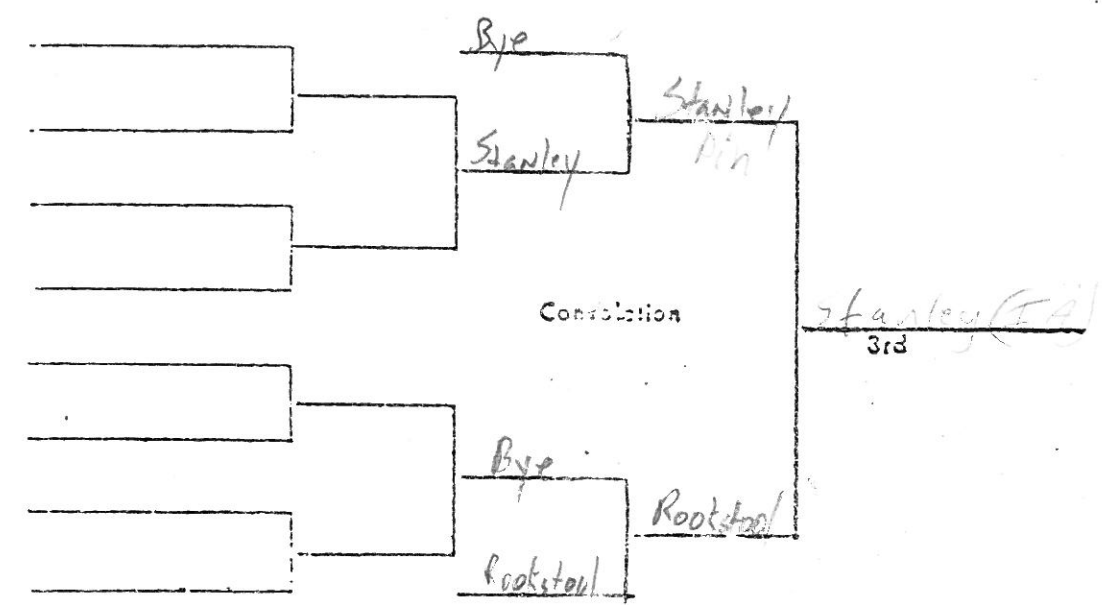

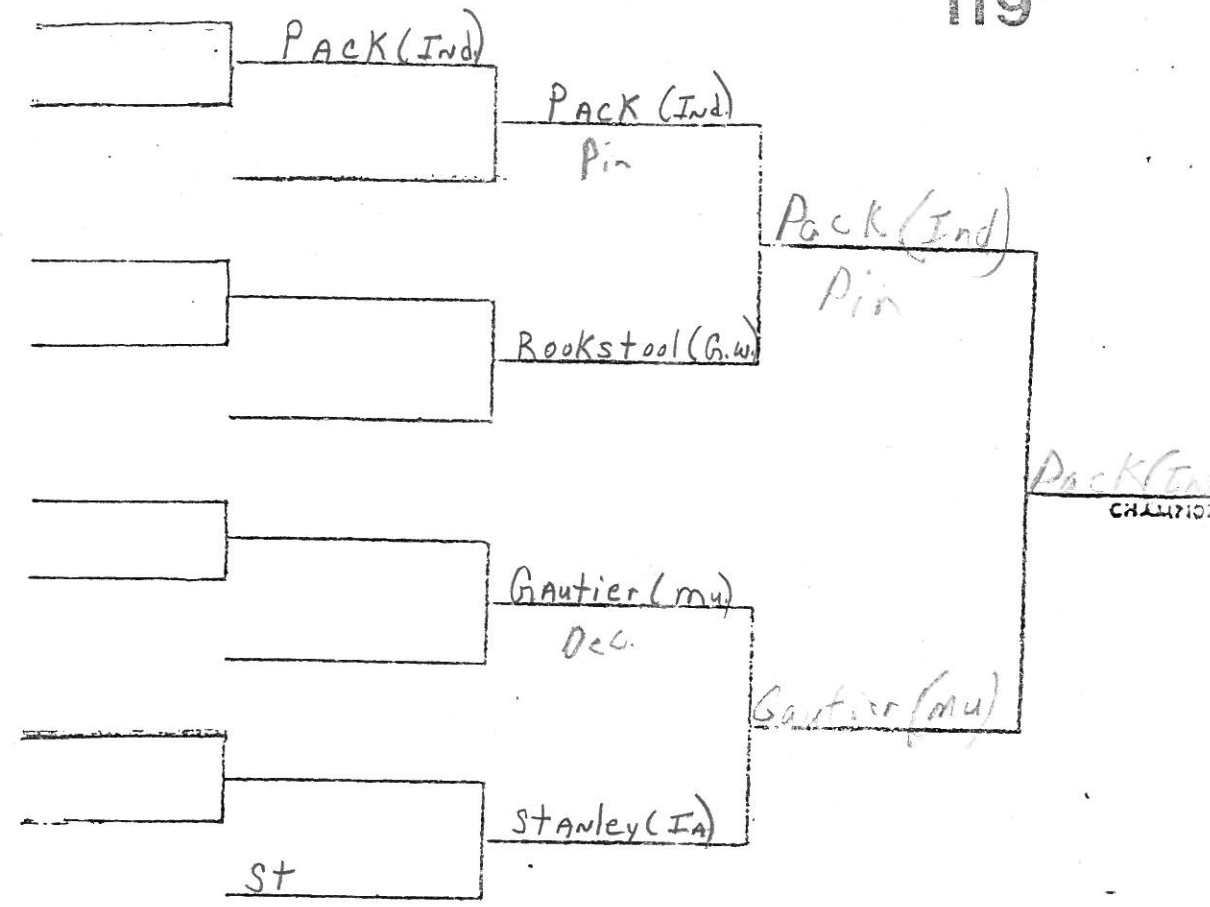

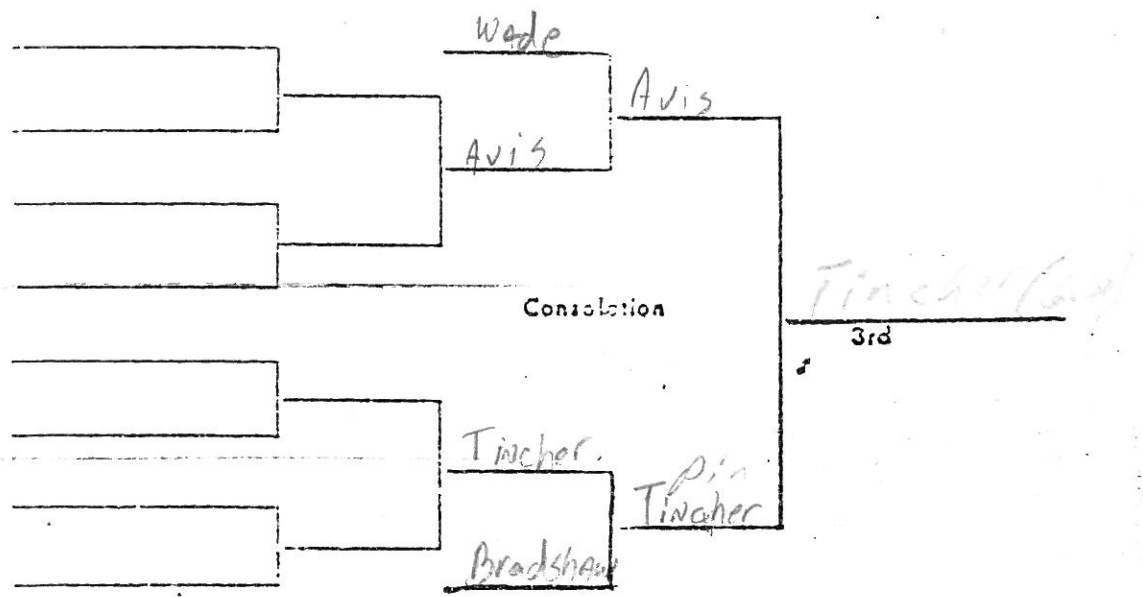

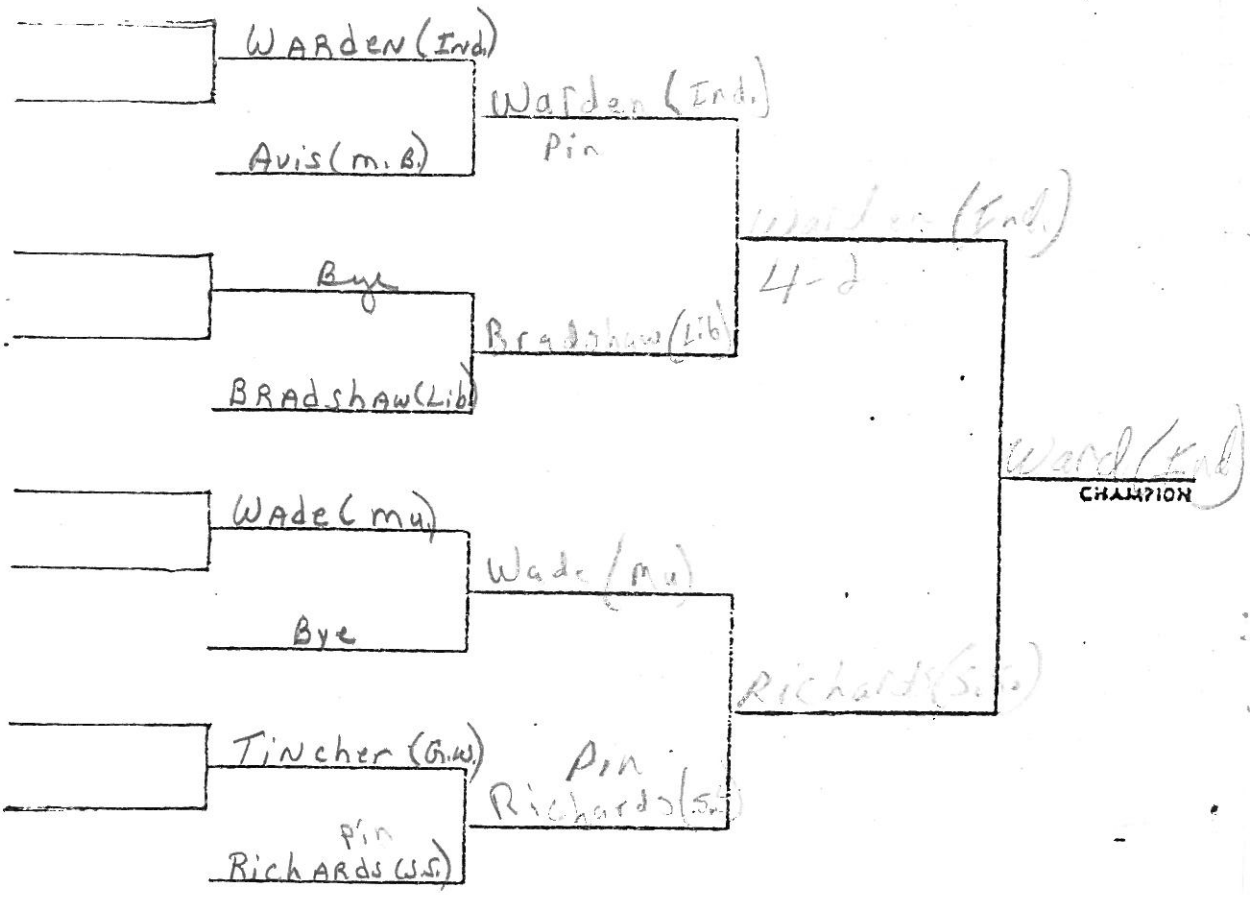

During each bout, each contestant will be wearing either a red or green anklet. These colors will correspond to the individual score accumulated by each man. Therefore, if a wrestler is wearing a green anklet, his score will appear on the green side of the individual score stand. Between the first and second periods the referee will toss a green and red disc to determine who has the choice positions. The colors of the disc will also correspond to the colors of the anklets.
